

How to read your utility bill

Whether you receive your bill in the mail or electronically, it contains important information about the water and/or sewer service you use. Please take a moment to learn about the charges, rates and other useful information included with each bill.

Here's where you'll find the customer name, service address and your account number.

How much do you owe and when is it due? You'll find that right here. You'll also find your usage, which may be displayed in CCF or gallons.

This section of the bill is a great way to track your usage. Compare the current 12 months with the previous 12 months and see your average daily usage. The more you know about your usage, the better you can plan and manage it.

Please note: Customers who only have Liberty sewer service will not have this graph on their bills.

If paying by mail, please detach and return the bottom of the bill with your payment.

At Liberty, we're taking steps to ensure safe and reliable water service for customers. We also encourage you to prepare for colder temperatures by winterizing water pipes to prevent freezing. Did you know that water expands as it freezes? This can put pressure on metal or plastic pipes and can cause them to break. For winterizing tips, visit libertyenergyandwater.com.
